PASTOR TO BE RECOMMENDED

CHRISTIAN CHURCH COMMITTEE LIKES REV. R. W. BURNS.

RECEPTION LAST NIGHT

Young Webster Groves Minister and His Wife Here.—Church Will Act Sunday.

The pulpit committee of the First Christian Church has recommended the Rev. Robert W. Burns of Webster Groves to the church board as the new pastor of the Church here. The action of the committee followed a visit here yesterday of the Reverend Mr. Burns and Mrs. Burns and a reception given them last night.

The Board will meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday night to take action relative to calling the pastor. In turn it will present the matter before the church Sunday morning.

A. L. Nash, president of the general board, said the Webster Groves pastor won a favorable impression here and it appears probable he will be called.

Members of the pulpit committee two weeks ago heard the Reverend Mr. Burns preach in his church at Webster Groves and the committee then took steps to invite him here.

The members of the pulpit committee: Elders: Jonathan Stark and A. J. Caulfield; deacons: Harry Todd and Edward W. Gray; women: Mrs. James B. Robinson, sr., and Miss Laura B. Hawkins. The chairman of the committee is Mr. Nash.

200 Persons Meet Prospective Pastor

The Rev. Robert W. Burns, Webster Groves, Likes Maryville, He Tells Christians.

About 200 persons were at the reception last night to meet the prospective pastor. The Reverend Mr. Burns did not deliver an extended address but gave a talk lasting but five minutes.

"The four things that impress me about Maryville, visiting here for the first time, is the town, its hospitality, its college and its churches," the Reverend Mr. Burns told the members of the church.

A male quartet composed of E. A. Nelson, Leon Cannon, Richard Nelson and Glen Jones, sang "Come in Jesus' Name." A vocal solo "In the Shadow of the Cross," was sung by Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass. Congregational singing was led by Mrs. Ruth Martin.

The Reverend and Mrs. Burns came here from Des Moines, Ia., where they heard Sherwood Eddy speak. They were met at Ravenwood yesterday afternoon by Mr. Nash and Mr. Gray.

The guests were shown about the city, introduced to members of the church in the business section and other persons. The drive included a visit to the College and Mr. Burns was a guest at the dinner given at the County Club for St. Joseph Rotarians.

She said she had no further statement to make except that she had tried to do satisfactory work in the county treasurer's office since April, 1925, and would continue to do her best if re-elected.

Mrs. Thorp first was elected county treasurer on the Democratic ticket in 1924. Prior to this she was collector of Polk township for two terms. She has four children, all of whom are attending the Maryville public schools.

TWO SIDES TO 'DARK' AFRICA

CIVILIZATION IS ADVANCING SAYS MISSIONARY.

COMES FROM ALGIERS

Conditions Good Under British Rule, Miss Elma Elam Reports.—Heathen Customs Die Slowly.

"Dark Africa," land of jungles, tigers, lions, elephants, alligators and heathen cannibal tribes in one sense is right, but in another the "dark" should be "bright," for there is much beauty to be found in nature, education is advancing, missions are growing and heathen customs are slowly dying out, Miss Elma Elam, African missionary said in an interview this morning.

Miss Elam, a graduate of William Jewell College, is in Maryville this week assisting in the Annual School of Missions at the First Baptist Church. She has been working in West Africa, in Algiers province, the past three years. Miss Elam has been on a leave of absence since June 21 and will sail within two weeks for her field. Her home is at Madison, Mo.

"The pretty flowers, trees that bear red and white blooms, clinging vines, towering palms and delicious fruits are reasons why Africa in the proper sense is not 'Dark,'" Miss Elam said.

Satisfied Under British.

The province is under the British flag, the missionary pointed out, declaring the natives showed great satisfaction in the manner they were being protected and taken care of by that government.

There are only 1000 white persons living in the Province, most of whom are government employes. Miss Elam said the influence of the "whites" is often a hindrance rather than a help to the missionaries, their influence in the matter of intoxicating liquor, for instance, being very poor. European markets are shipping liquors in large quantities to Africa, she said.

The white residents detest the 'black boys.' But an African loves to imitate and their acts are often times a reflection on some white person, Miss Elam pointed out.

"Africa from an educational viewpoint is making great progress and in years to come will equal, but not exceed, the best nations of the world," she said. "Africa just never has had an opportunity to learn. The governmental heads in the provinces where I work are interested in educational progress and are investing large sums of money in buildings.

"We have government inspectors who help us to comply with the English school system. The child takes an English examination."

85 Mission Schools.

Eighty-five mission schools, described by Miss Elam, are caring for large numbers of illiterate. Most of the schools are primary in nature because of this illiteracy. Many do not afford more than a fifth grade education. There are some high schools.

"Mission work in Africa is welcomed, on the other hand, heathen tribes defy the work of the missionary. Each tribe has its own peculiar dislike but they will eventually be reached," the missionary believes.

Mission work in Africa has been underway for seventy-eight years and this is but the beginning. Eighteen thousand persons are under the Baptist mission in Miss Elam's particular province. "There are few missionaries, but all are trained. Much depends upon the trained help of African Christians," she said.

Miss Elam has with her many fine pieces of hand work by the natives. Grass weaving is not the most important, but the most interesting work of the African. The women do the weaving and the men the stitching.

One Dress for All Occasions.

The African dress requires four yards of goods, she pointed out. But the one dress is used for every occasion. In America less material is used, but the dress fits only one occasion.

The men like to farm and hunt, the women harvest the crops and the children help the women.

Speaking of dangers in Africa, Miss Elam said the lion and elephant are the most dangerous. "The native fears the elephant above other animals, because an angry elephant will fight to kill."

Transportation is by boats up the

Senate Frowns on World Court Action

Other Nations Won't Be Asked to Ratify American Terms, Committee Decides.

Washington, Mar. 28.—The Senate foreign relations committee decided today to take no action for the time being on the Gillett resolution directing the state department to reopen negotiations with the nations of the world to secure ratification of American terms for adherence to the World Court.

Chairman Borah announced after an executive session that the committee was of the unanimous opinion that the President could not alter article five of the American terms and that the Senate would not modify it. Article five provides that the court would render no advisory opinions in which the United States, has, or claims to have, an interest, unless this country consents.

LIQUOR AGAIN TO THE FRONT

CHICAGO FORGETS BOMBS IN NEW CHARGES.

GRAND JURY INDICTS

Two Thompson Men Among Ten Persons Accused.—More Campaign Violence Expected.

Birthday Gifts Feared.

Chicago, March 28. — Armed guards, posted to prevent a bomb outrage, opened all gifts which arrived at the home of U. S. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson last night for Mrs. Christine Swanstrom, his mother-in-law, who was celebrating her birthday.

As guests arrived with packages the guards took the gifts, unwrapped them, and then passed them to Mrs. Swanstrom.

Chicago, March 28.—Liquor over shadowed bombs in Chicago politics today when the federal grand jury indicted two prominent administration politicians, one prohibition agent and seven other persons in an alleged alcohol conspiracy.

Alderman Titus Haffa, an adherent of Mayor William Hale Thompson, and Albert P. Bauer, former Lincoln park commissioner and a strong Thompson man, headed the list of those indicted.

The indictments were prepared yesterday, it was understood, but were withheld until today lest Thompson supporters charge they were reprisals for bombing of the homes of United States Senator Charles Deneen and Circuit Judge John J. Swanson Monday night.

No arrests had been made today in connection with the bombings.

Interwoven With Politics.

The importance of today's liquor indictments lay in the interweaving of liquor and gang affairs with politics in Chicago. Police charged the recent slaying of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Deneen ward leader, was due to his failure to deliver on protection promises to bootleggers. Deneen forces, however, charged the assassination was political.

Turmoil Increased.

Chicago, Mar. 28.—Threats of new bombings, charges and counter charges of violence by rival political factions and a multitude of investigations into the bombings of the homes of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen and Judge John J. Swanson served only to increase today the turmoil and confusion of Chicago's political war.

Thoroughly alarmed, the city prepared for new outbreaks of violence from now until the primary April 10. It seemed certain that the remaining two weeks of the campaign would be a political war with bombs and bullets.

Another bombing occurred shortly before midnight. A beer pump concern, owned by Emil Seiler, was wrecked by a black powder bomb.

Although police were inclined to line the bombing with the beer and alky war, rumors spread that Seiler was bombed because he recently refused to permit political posters to be placed in the windows of his store. The rumors could not be confirmed.

The 62nd Bombing.

Nevertheless, the bombing—the 62nd in five months—caused considerable alarm on the south side of the city and forecast continued violence.

Meanwhile the following events occurred:

Joseph Savage, candidate for committeeman from the 25th ward, was threatened with death in a letter which was signed "friends of Diamond Joe."

JONES FLOOD BILL PASSED

SPEED RECORDS BROKEN IN PASSAGE BY SENATE.

ONLY 2 AMENDMENTS

Senator Harrison of Mississippi Announces Bill Provides Relief Acceptance to the South.

Washington, Mar. 28.—The Senate today passed the Jones Flood Control bill after discussion lasting only ninety minutes.

Only two minor amendments, offered by Senators McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, and Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana, were adopted. The bill now goes to the House for action there.

All speed records for important legislation were broken by the Senate in passing this measure.

Important Measure.

The measure is considered the most important legislation of the session. Leaders negotiated an unusual arrangement whereby all parties worked out the chief causes of disagreement in committee.

Only one full speech was made upon the measure. Chairman Jones of the Senate Commerce Committee explained the features of the bill.

He pointed out that no one obtained every thing he wanted but that everyone agreed to drop minor differences in order that the legislation might pass.

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, started the stampede for a vote after Jones finished. He asked if the bill was agreeable to the southern states afflicted by the flood of a year ago.

Acceptable to South.

When Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, announced it was acceptable, Fess said:

"Well, then its agreeable to me and I am ready to vote. I have not had time to go into the bill but if it is acceptable to the states visited by the disaster it is agreeable to me."

Then there came cries of "vote, vote." Only about twenty senators were present. McKellar obtained adoption of his amendment providing that a survey be undertaken for a levee at Tiptonville, Tenn., and Ransdell obtained unanimous consent for adoption of the new project, ordinary precautions should be taken to protect the river banks.

The Senate will now take up the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and then the Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill. By the time those two measures and some minor appropriations bills are passed, the finance committee is expected to report a tax reduction bill.

That program will carry the session to the time for adjournment around June 1.

The vote on a roll call was 69 to 0. Senator King, Democrat, Utah, announced he would have voted against the measure but he had a pair with Senator Walsh of Montana. King did not state his objection to the measure.

The bill provides that a federal commission of five members shall have jurisdiction over the flood control project. The board would consist of the Secretary of War, the chief of Army Engineers, the president of the Mississippi river commission and two civilan engineers to be selected by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Nicaraguan Canal Is Proposed in Senate

Senator McKellar Introduces Measure Saying Panama Canal Inadequate.

Washington, March 28.—A bill proposing a $200,000,000 bond issue for construction of the Nicaraguan canal, linking the Caribbean and the Pacific, was introduced in the Senate Tuesday by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. It would appropriate $10,000,000 so work could be started as soon as the measure is passed.

The Panama Canal is being overcrowded and will provide in the next few years plenty of business for the Nicaraguan canal, he said.

First Lady's Mother Is Slightly Improved

Northampton, Mass., Mar. 28.—Although still in a critical condition, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue was believed slightly improved today and greatly cheered by visits from her daughter, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Reed Answers G. O. P. Charges in Missouri

"Cheap, Common and Vulgar Liar" Is Senator's Description of Critics.

Asheville, N. C., Mar. 28.—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri answered charges made against him at the Missouri Republican state convention Monday on his arrival here today.

"Anyone who charges that I benefited by any corrupt elections is a cheap, common and vulgar liar," the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination fairly shouted.

Reed said he had "never heard" of James A. Finch, Missouri manager of Frank O. Lowden's presidential campaign, who, in the keynote speech of the convention, criticized Reed for not taking the stump against alleged fraudulent Democratic elections in his own state.

When asked if he planned to endorse the candidacy of James A. Collett, a life long friend and a "wet", now candidate for the United States Senate in Missouri, Reed said he "would leave the matter open until I return to Missouri."

BAD WEATHER DELAYS START

GERMAN FLIERS HOPE TO GET AWAY TOMORROW.

SECRECY MAINTAINED

Easterly Winds, Rain and Fog Reported at Western and Transatlantic Route.

Dublin, Mar. 28.—The crew of the Junkers Monoplane Bremen spent today inspecting the craft in which they hope to start at down on a flight over the Atlantic "to Mitchell Field or Heaven."

The fliers were looking for clearing skies by Thursday morning.

Captain Hermann Koehl, Baron Gunther von Huenefeld and mechanic Arthur Spindler spent the day supervising the work of mechanics, who took advantage of the delayed start to give the machine a thorough inspection.

There were some showers today, driven by a high westerly wind.

The work of preparation still was being done secretly. Photographers and newspapermen were denied admittance to Baldonnel airdome.

Conditions Unfavorable.

St. Johns, N. F., Mar. 28.—Weather conditions off the Newfoundland coast were not the best today for a trans-Atlantic flight attempt. Easterly winds, rain and fog were reported. Forecasts were for winds and probably gales with rain and fog.

Halifox, N. S., Mar. 28.—Weather off Nova Scotia today were clearing.

To Fly Out of Job.

Hamburg, Mar. 28.—Captain Hermann Koehl, one of the chief night time pilots of the Lufthansa corporation, will fly out of a job if he starts on a trans-Atlantic flight in the airplane Bremen.

Officials of the Lufthansa company said that Koehl must consider himself dismissed because the company disapproves of such flights without adequate machines.

SAYS OIL DEAL WAS FOR BEST

FALL MAKES STATEMENT ABOUT TEAPOT DOME LEASE.

'WAS NOTHING TO HIDE'

Others Knew About Deal and Would Not Offer What Sinclair Did, Former Secretary Asserts.

El Paso, Tex., March 28.—The Teapot Dome naval oil lease was the most financially advantageous deal ever made for the government, Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, declared here today, according to a copyrighted story in the El Paso Post.

The interview with Fall was obtained as Fall prepared to make his deposition to be used in the conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man, in Washington, D. C.

Its contents were regarded as a foresight into the story the former Cabinet official will tell attorneys representing Sinclair and the government.

In an affidavit, Attorney Ragland of the Sinclair legal staff, recently said Fall would testify that he had made what he thought was a government bargain, that he did not favor Sinclair and that bonds Sinclair had sent him were not intended to be a bribe but to be payment for one-third interest in Fall's Tres Rios ranch in New Mexico.

"I haven't seen Ragland's affidavit but I presume it is correct," Fall said.

Tried to Protect Government.

"A geological survey had said that oil in the Teapot Dome naval reserve was sealed off by water and was in no danger of being drained by seepage," Fall continued.

"In a desire to protect the government, I sought the advice of men whom I considered the best experts available. They said there was danger of seepage. And later findings proved that they were correct.

"It was then that I set out to save the oil, and I made what I considered a good deal for the government.

"They say I suppressed news about the lease to favor Sinclair, but there were others who knew about it. There was nothing to hide. Since then men have testified that they would not have offered the government what Sinclair did."

Fall's statement, according to the interview, that "others knew about" the lease deal is in line with Ragland's statement that Fall will testify he reluctantly assented to an executive order at the insistence of President Harding, which enabled Sinclair to lease the oil reserve.

On Fall's library table there was a copy of a message from Harding in response to a Senate resolution of April 22, 1922, submitting information concerning the naval reserve oil leases.

Approved by Harding.

The message said:

"Think it is only fair to say in this connection that the policy which has been adopted by the Secretary of the Navy (Denby) and Secretary of the Interior (Fall) in dealing with the matters was submitted to me prior to the adoption thereof and the policy was decided upon and the subsequent acts have at all times had my approval."

Harding signed the message June 7, 1922.

"Much of the investigation being made by the Senate committee is aside from the real purpose of the committee," Fall said. "What they actually want to know is whether I accepted a bribe. But they can deviate if they want to and laugh about it.

"They are trying to show that Sinclair made campaign donations with Continental Trading Company bonds: that I received $233,000 in Continental bonds for one-third interest in the ranch and that there was a connection somewhere between the two.

"I know nothing about Continental Trading Company. So far as I am concerned it makes no difference whether Harry M. Blackmer and James E. O'Neil, oil men for whom the committee is hunting, have gone aboard.

Says It Was Not A Graft.

"I claim so far as I am concerned the lease deal was open and above board."

March 28—By United Press.

The name of Governor Smith has been signed to petitions to enter the Democratic primaries in South Dakota, May 20.

Senator Reed in a speech at Raleigh, N. C., urged voters to elect honest men for the government. He attacked various official acts of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon.

Farmer-Labor party representatives from twelve northwestern states met today in St. Paul. Former Senator Magnus Johnson urged formation of a third party with Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska as the Presidential candidate.

Three Iowa counties pledged thirty-eight delegates to Governor Smith of New York at the Iowa state Democratic convention, April 20.

A new petition placing Herbert Hoover in the New Jersey Republican primaries has been filed.

Disaster Blame Upon Constructors of Dam

"Fasten It On Me," Cries Aged California Engineer.—Foundations Declared Defective.

Sacramento, Cal., March 28.—Blame for the breaking of St. Francis dam and resulting loss of life now rests with the constructors of the obstruction.

After conducting a thorough investigation into the breaking of the dam, a commission, appointed by Gov. C. C. Young, announced the following reasons for the dam's collapse:

1—The failure of the dam was caused by defective foundations as it was not built upon sound bedrock.

2—It was not indicated by the investigation that the accepted theory of gravity dam design was in error or that there was any question about the safety of concrete dams designed in accordance with that theory when built upon even ordinarily sound bedrock.

3—All such dams whose collapse would result in serious loss of life should be erected and maintained under the supervision and control of state authorities.

4—The state should maintain strict police guard over dams of that nature where any considerable quantity of water is stored.

William Mulholland, aged chief engineer of the water department who supervised the building of the dam, yesterday took full responsibility for the collapse of the structure.

"Fasten it on me if there has been any error in human judgment," Mulholland cried at the coroner's inquest. "I was the human."

"I want to help you. I want to take my medicine like a man if there is any medicine to be taken. If there must be a human to blame for the failure of that dam, then I accept full responsibility."

May Abandon Dam Above Hollywood.

Hollywood, Calif., Mar. 28.—Steps to empty and abandon the giant Mulholland dam in the Hollywood Hills above the motion picture colony were under consideration today by the board of water and power commissioners.

Abandonment of the dam was urged by a committee of business men of Hollywood and Los Angeles, which appeared before the board to urge steps to remove the possibility of a repetition of the St. Francis dam disaster.

Business Section of Texas Town Burns

Lubbock, Texas, March 28.—Thirteen business houses in the town of Seagraves, 74 miles southwest of here, were destroyed with a loss estimated at $500,000 when fire swept the town last night.

A hotel, bank, two lumber yards, three filling stations and the telephone office escaped the flames. Seagraves has a population of 600.

DISPUTE WITH MEXICO ENDS

NEW REGULATIONS ISSUED ON ENFORCING OIL LAWS.

PRIOR RIGHTS STAND

U. S. Wins in Contention That Property Acquired Before 1927 Cannot Be Confiscated.

Mexico City, March 28.—The dispute over Mexican oil laws, which led to several notes between the United States and Mexican governments, today was believed settled through publication or regulations governing enforcement of the amended laws.

Dwight W. Morrow, the American ambassador who was sent to Mexico to create good will between that government and his own, in a statement said he believed the regulations solved the main difficulties. Some oil companies still may await a test in Mexican courts but it was believed that most of the firms had little choice but to agree to the new regulations with Morrow endorsing them.

Four Points Contained.

The following points are contained in the amendments to the original laws and regulations governing both the laws and amendments:

1.—The United States' contention is accepted that companies cannot be deprived of rights acquired prior to the 1927 constitution.

2.—Mexico agrees to confirm acquired rights without imposing a time limit.

3.—The Gonzales-Roa definition is accepted as to what constitutes positive exploitation.

Sell Only to Mexicans.

4.—Foreign oil companies are not forced to conduct themselves as if their operators were Mexican citizens, as the original law required. It is provided only that they may not sell their properties except to Mexicans.

Ambassador Morrow was aided by Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City, former solicitor of the United States and now claims commissioner, who arrived here with the new ambassador. An entire room in the embassy was turned over to him. For days he worked over plans and precedents, tracing them back as far as 1559. Almost daily he was in negotiations with Mexican officials over some of the involved points.

To Practical Conclusion

Washington, March 28.—After 11 months of intensive efforts, which began here last April with a conference between President Coolidge and Ambassador Tellez and ended yesterday when President Calles of Mexico signed the new oil law regulations, the 10-year old petroleum dispute with Mexico has been brought to a practical conclusion.

At the state department it was said today that the regulations, which grant titles in perpetuity to oil companies possessing valid titles acquired before May, 1917, removes the retroactive and confiscatory features of the Mexican oil laws to which the United States objected. Disputes arising over questionable titles, it was said, can "be settled through the due operation of the Mexican administrative departments and the Mexican courts."

Note Writing Abandoned.

Steps in the operation of the new policy toward Mexico adopted last April included the appointment in August of Dwight W. Morrow and the substitution of personal conversations between Morrow and Mexican officials for long distance note-writing. Mexico, for its part, acted through the courts to declare the retroactive features unconstitutional, following this with the adoption of the new regulations.

MAY LAUNCH THIRD PARTY

FARMER-LABOR LEADERS OF TWELVE STATES MEET.

SEE NORRIS AS HEAD

Movement Given Impetus at Minnesota State Convention Yesterday.—Led by Magnus Johnson.

St. Paul, Minn., March 28.—Farmer-Laborite leaders of twelve northwestern states met here today in a conference which it was believed might result in the formation of a third party, with U. S. Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska Republican, as its presidential candidate.

The third party movement gained considerable impetus at the Minnesota state convention of the Farmer-Laborite party here yesterday.

Magnus Johnson, former Senator, urged convention delegates to "get solidly behind a third party movement and back Senator Norris for President. "There is no cleaner, stronger or abler man in the United States today," Johnson said.

The movement was based on the hope Norris might be induced to leave the Republican ranks and head the new party, as did the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin in 1924.

The party platform adopted by the convention delegates urged support of the St. Lawrence waterway and transportation on the Mississippi as long as barges were owned by the government; agitation for legislation to reclassify taxable property to force a greater share of the burden on the wealthy class; immediate passage of the McNary-Haugen Bill, and protection for the wage earners against "exploitation of the privileged class."

The convention endorsed of U. S. Senator Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, for re-election.

San Diego, Cal.—B. B. "Ban" Johnson, former president of the American baseball league, is seriously ill at Coronado. He is suffering from diabetes.

Easter Luncheon Given Today by Dietetics Class

The dietetics class of the home economics department of the State Teachers College staged a concrete example of its term project in the form of a "health getters" Easter luncheon, at the College today.

Here is a report of the luncheon as given by a member of the class:

A most interesting and practical project is being executed in the dietetics class at the State Teachers College this quarter, under the direction of Miss Lucile Starr, instructor of foods and nutrition at the College.

Youngsters from the training school, one or two from town and two high school girls have been selected as subjects. These children are malnourished, some below and some about the standard as given by height weight tables for their ages, however more are an alarming per cent off. The object of this term's work is to accomplish definite results in regard to health habits, as one little boy has said "Get health."

The results, as habits are to be cultivated after most interesting devices and methods have been introduced.

Definite stimuli as health scrap books, daily charts kept by the youngsters with gummed seals to show exactly what things he has done for health each day, weekly measuring and weighing, installation of health food in the daily diet, corrective measures in exercise, rest, and hygiene are a few items stressed.

Each girl in the class has charge of one child but from reports from the training school she could easily have five. The children almost long to be malnourished, and one child asked Mrs. Clum Price, her teacher if she didn't think her pale and in need of correct food. This atmosphere could hardly be if it were not for the most willing co-operation of Miss Dora Smith and Mrs. Price of the training school and of every parent concerned.

Today a model luncheon has definitely decided for each youngster the determination to become a standard example of health. The Easter rabbit in a nest of eggs, with a pack of jonquils on his back, sat up right in the center of the table, and watched each kiddie eat his spinach loaf, baked in tiny individual molds, his baked potato in the half shell and probably longed to be a little boy or girl to get to eat one of those brown bread sandwiches made like stars, moons, chickens and other interesting shapes. But if the tiny cotton favors, chickens, ducks and bunnies had't been tied with ribbon to the chandlier the lettuce beneath the orange salad might have suffered. The yellow candles stood tall and straight and spread a soft light so each kiddie might find the picture pasted neatly on the bottom of his one half pint milk bottle after he had sipped the last bit through the straw. Easter can't be Easter without fried eggs, even if it must be a joke, so that is what these children had for desert. A slice of angel food cake with an inverted apricot was most deceiving but completed the happiness of every child present.

TWO SIDES TO "DARK" AFRICA

rivers and streams and it offers its dangers. Miss Elam said many a man had lost his life to an alligator when the boat was upset.

Deer hunting is the favorite sport among the white residents.

The white ant is a pestilence to Africa, Miss Elam said. "They eat through anything but cement and many buildings have been ruined by them," she explained.

Lack of the proper type of food has made many of the race under-sized, the missionary declared, the reason being the lack of milk and butter and too much starch. Cattle cannot be raised in Africa. There are a few goats.

Eat Cats, Snakes, Bugs.

"It is still in good taste in Africa to eat, in addition to goat and sheep meat, the cat, snake and bugs," Miss Elam said. "The grasshopper is one of the most delightful of foods to the African. They will eat anything. But I never heard of them ever eating dog meat, because they love dogs too well.

"The people are loyal, dependable, friendly in nature, lovable, clever at making money, and adapted to learning," is the way Miss Elam characterized the African people.

The Rev. and Mrs. Guy L. Prather, who knew Miss Elam before she took up her work in missions, are entertaining her in their home while she is Maryville.

ROTARIANS IN MEETING HERE

ST. JOSEPH MEN EXPOUND PRINCIPALS OF ORGANIZATION.

DINE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Young Business Men Hosts to Visiting Delegation—Service Declared Basis.

Spreading the gospel of "service above self," twenty-six members of the St. Joseph Rotary club were guests last night of a group of younger business men of Maryville at the Country Club.

Speakers for the St. Joseph delegation characterized their visit as one of acquaintance, fellowship and "missionary" work.

Group singing, Rotary style, led by "Mel" Platt, preceded and followed the dinner at which the Maryville men were hosts. The Rev. Robert Burns of Webster Groves invoked the blessing. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Carl LeRoy Fisher, Lawrence Wray, Beatrice Hansen, and Gertrude Wray.

The after-dinner entertainment, after a welcome by M. E. Selecman, was turned over to the visiting Rotarians, and their president, "Charley" Greene, in turn delegated it to the club's rural acquaintance committee, headed by W. E. Spratt, who acted as toastmaster.

Talks were given by "Ed" Chadwick, St. Joseph Y. M. C. A. secretary; "Bill" Bodenhausen, first president of the St. Joseph Rotary club; Tom Witten of Trenton, a guest of the St. Joseph club for the day; and Myron Meyer, Jewish rabbi.

Can't Define Spirit.

All speakers agreed that the Rotary spirit could not be defined, but that "once you get hold, you can't let go."

"President Charley,"—the Rotarians are known among themselves only by their first names—declared Rotary principles dated back to the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule.

"Bill" Spratt defined the group as "playful, helpful, good natured fellows who love to be together."

Both speakers advocated closer relations between the two cities, and a declaration that the St. Joseph men "would never rest, night or day, until the slab south of Maryville reaches to St. Joseph," brought applause.

The St. Joseph Rotary club was the 32nd to be established, Mr. Bodenhausen said. Now there are 2,781 clubs in forty-four countries.

Mr. Witten was originator of the Trenton slogan, "Get acquainted with your neighbor, you might like him." "And you might add that Tom Witten says, be damn careful or you will," he asserted.

He challenged the argument that Rotary clubs interfere with the chamber of commerce.

No Conflict With C. of C.

"I was one of the fellows," he said, "who helped to hush it up, when Rotary first wanted to come into Trenton, and it was the worst thing we ever did." It is an "unwritten law" of the Trenton Rotary club, he said, that its members first must belong to the Trenton Commercial club.

"The spirit that the Rotary club builds up makes fine support for the chamber of commerce," he explained.

Mr. Witten listed the Boy Scouts and the Trenton Junior College among the achievements of the Trenton Rotary club.

Rabbi Meyer, in an eloquent talk, declared Rotary was open to all creeds, deplored unfair and narrow attitudes of mind, stressed and emphasized social consciousness and made "workers, not shirkers, optimists, not pessimists."

Preident Greene found it remarkable that of 2,783 clubs organized in the twenty-three years of Rotary's existence, only two have surrendered their charters.

"There must be something to it, and there is something," he asserted.

Other speakers stressed Rotary's influence toward world peace.

The Visitors.

The St. Joseph men with their Rotary names and classifications were: "Charley" Greene, president, education; "Harry" Herschman, vice-president, cold storage; "Fred" Cutcheon, artificial gas; "Jim" Hunt, wholesale fruit; "Ed" Chandlee," interior decorator; Brown DeMuth, stove parts; Leroy Wood, railway transportation; Hugh McNutt, bands and orchestras; Luther Reed, electrical supplies; "Sam" Craighill, furniture; "Joe" Hagen, building and loan; "Charley" Schall, monuments.

Orville Moffett, landscape gardening; "Jim" Thornton, telephone; Ed Chadwick, Y. M. C. A. secretary; "Mel" Platt, business college; Orestes Mitchell, law; Carl Davis, agricultural implements; Henry Raines, collection agencies; "Bill" Bodenhausen, men's furnishings; Rabbi Myron Meyer; "Bill" Long, typewriters; "Watty" Watson, physical education; "Bus" Allison, automotive specialties; "Sandy" Sanderson, automobile; "Bill" Spratt, real estate.

Mr. Witten's classification at Trenton is hardware.

The Maryville men who attended the dinner were: Fred R. Wolfers, W. N. Deatherage, Harry Todd, Dr. Harold Ryan, Dr. Jesse Miller, F. G. Shoemaker, Ray Hull, W. T. Van Cleve, Ray Harrison, L. M. Eck, J. C. McDonnell, F. C. Miller, Chester Lyle, Homer T. Phillips, Creston Maul, Victor Fields, Charles Jensen, M. Butler, M. A. Lewis, jr., L. E. Ziegler, Fred Lewis, Clun Price, Guy Mercer, M. E. ## BAND COMING LATER

Potentate of Moila Temple Formerly of Graham.—Several From Other Towns Attend.

Walter L. Eshelman, potentate, Wm. J. Vannix, recorder, and the Divan of Moila Temple, St. Joseph, accompanied by a number of Shriners, were the guests of Maryville Shriners at a meeting held at Masonic Temple last night. A dinner was served in the banquet hall by the Eastern Star at 6:30 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting was good fellowship. It is planned to bring the Shrine band, under the direction of Hugh McNutt, and the drum corp and patrol to Maryville within the next few months.

Mr. Eshelman lived at Graham several years ago and is well acquainted in this county. H. G. Getchell, who has been a Shriner for forty-one years, told about the Shrine Ceremonial held in Maryville a number of years ago, when the late A. P. Clayton of St. Joseph was made a Shriner. Ten years after that time Clayton was imperial potentate.

Several numbers were given by the Shrine quartet.

The St. Joseph visitors were: Mr. Eshelman, Mr. Vannix, Mr. Getchell, C. B. Berry, T. H. Nicholas, D. E. Metheny, Earl Nolt, Frank A. Miller, D. P. Symon, Dr. Walter F. Kimball, Karl E. Johnson, John B. Hall, Ezra Harrison, Dr. W. M. Campbell, E. E. Gard, F. Y. Churchill, J. R. Hawkins, D. C. Wilke, Paul Amerman, Milton Schwaln, C. F. Lechler, J. C. Cutler, B. P. ## Sodality Gives Play at Conception Hall

"Mary Magdalene" Presented by Parnell Society Sunday Night Before a Large Audience.

Staging the beautiful drama, "Mary Magdalene", at the Conception Parish Hall last Sunday evening, the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph's Church of Parnell crowned itself with new laurels. An unusually large audience, gathered together from many different towns in Nodaway County, attended the presentation.

Judging from the numerous comments heard on all sides it was evident that the efforts of the players were thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed.

"Mary Magdalene" is a distinctly religious play, depicting biblical characters and scenes, particularly relative to the famous Mary Magdalene of the Gospels, one of the greatest converts of Christ. This fact in itself makes the play rather difficult for modern presentation.

The third act of the play portrays scenes from the crucifixion of Christ, although the crucifixion itself is indicated as taking place off stage.

The Conception College orchestra furnished the musical numbers for the evening. The vocal rendition of "Our Father" by Mildred and Veronica Hall and Florence Boedecker demanded an encore.

Ravenwood School Directors Nominated

A large crowd attended both the dinner and supper and a large number of out-of-town guests was present. Judge and Mrs. Jesse F. Robertson of Maryville were among the out-of-town guests.

The weather in Burlington and vicinity for the last few days, namely Monday and Tuesday, brought back a little touch of winter. ## State Capital Briefs

By United Press.

Governor Sam A. Baker is one of Missouri's hardest working public officials. After the tiring experience of the all-day session of the Republican convention at St. Joseph he spent Monday night on a train, arriving at the Capital at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was on the job at his office less than three hours later.

Although the convention voted to endorse Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, for president, Governor Baker said there were several other presidential candidates who showed unexpected strength. Governor Baker announced last week that he favored the election of Charles Evans Hughs.

Two men, who have so far remained pretty well in the background, but who are developing considerable strength, are Vice-president Charles Dawes and Hughes, Governor Baker said. The Missouri governor was elected a member of the state delegation to the national convention in Kansas City. He believes that if it is impossible to put Lowden over, that the Missouri delegation may go to Dawes or Hughes.

Benjamin H. Marbury of Farmington has requested that his name be withdrawn as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the twenty-seventh Judicial Circuit. Judge Marbury filed several weeks ago on the Democratic ticket. He gave no reason for withdrawing.

J. W. Farris of Bloomfield, this week filed with Charles U. Becker, secretary of state, a formal declaration of his candidacy for Judge of the Circuit Court in the twenty-second Judicial District. He is a Democrat.

Charles A. Hendricks of Stockton, Cedar County, filed for judge in the twenty-sixth Judicial District on the Republican ticket this week. Frank H. Hayes of Sedalia filed for judge in the thirtieth district, also. Judge Hayes is a Democrat.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

THE STORY THUS FAR

Vance believes Skeel innocent of the murder of Margaret Odell and that he lay hidden in a closet while the strangler did his work. Markham ridicules the theory but Vance is unshaken. Mannix, under pressure, reveals that he had been calling, the night of the murder, on a Miss Frisbee, who occupied the apartment adjoining the "Canary's." At five minutes to 12, he says, he saw Cleaver sneaking out the side door of the building—the door which was thought bolted on the inside all night. Markham confronts Cleaver with this information and asks him why he lied about his whereabouts.

CHAPTER XXXVI

For a long time there was tense silence. Then Cleaver spoke.

"I've got to think this thing out."

Markham waited patiently. After several minutes Cleaver drew himself together and squared his shoulders.

"I'm going to tell you what I did that night, and you can take it or leave it."

Again he was the cold, self-contained gambler. "I don't care how many witnesses you've got; it's the only story you'll ever get out of me. I should have told it in the first place, but I didn't see any sense of stepping into hot water, if I wasn't pushed in. You might have believed me last Tuesday, but now you've got something in your head, and you want to make an arrest to shut up the newspapers——"

"Tell your story," ordered Markham. "If it's straight, you needn't worry about the newspapers."

Cleaver knew in his heart that this was true. No one—not even his bitterest political enemies—had ever accused Markham of buying praise with any act of injustice however small.

"There's not much to tell, as a matter of fact," the man began. "I went to Miss Odell's house a little before midnight, but I didn't enter her apartment; I didn't even ring her bell."

"Is that your customary way of paying visits?"

"Sounds fishy, doesn't it? But it's the truth, nevertheless. I intended to see her—that is I wanted to—but when I reached her door, something made me change my mind——"

"Just a moment.—How did you enter the house?"

"By the side door—the one off the alleyway. I always used it when it was open. Miss Odell requested me to, so the telephone operator wouldn't see me coming in so often."

"And the door was unlocked at that time Monday night?"

"How else could I have got in by it? A key wouldn't have done me any good, even if I'd had one, for the door locks by a bolt on the inside. I'll say this, though: that's the first time I ever remember finding the door unlocked at night."

"All right. You went in the side entrance. Then what?"

"I walked down the rear hall and listened at the door of Miss Odell's apartment for a minute. I thought there might be some one else with her, and I didn't want to ring unless she was alone. . . ."

"Pardon my interrupting, Mr. Cleaver," interposed Vance. "But what made you think some one else was there?"

The man hesitated.

"Was it," prompted Vance, "because you had telephoned to Miss Odell a little while before, and had been answered by a man's voice?"

Cleaver nodded slowly. "I can't see any particular point in denying it. . . Yes, that's the reason."

"What did this man say to you?"

"Damn little. He said 'Hello', and when I asked to speak to Miss Odell he informed me she wasn't in and hung up."

"That, I think, explains Jessup's report of the brief phone call to the Odell apartment at twenty minutes to twelve."

"Probably." Markham spoke without interest. He was intent on Cleaver's account of what hapuened later, and he toop up the interrogation at the point where Vance had interrupted.

"You say you listened at the apartment door. What caused you to refrain from ringing?"

"I heard a man's voice inside."

Markham straightened up.

A man's voice? You're sure?"

"That's what I said." Cleaver was matter of fact about it. "A man's voice. Otherwise I'd have rung the bell."

"Could you identify the voice?"

"Hardly. It was very indistinct; and it sounded a little hoarse. It wasn't any one's voice I was familiar with; but I'd be inclined to say it was the same one that answered me over the phone."

"Could you make out anything that was said?"

Cleaver frowned and looked past Markham through the open window.

"I know what the words sounded like," he said slowly. "I didn't think anything of them at the time. But after reading the papers the next day, those words came back to me——"

"What were the words?" Markham cut in impatiently.

"Well, as near as I could make out, they were: 'Oh, my God! Oh, my God'!—repeated two or three times.

This statement seemed to bring a sense of horrow into the dreary old office—a horror all the more potent because of the casual, phlegmatic way in which Cleaver repeated that cry of anguish. After a brief pause Markham asked:

"When you heard this man's voice, what did you do?"

"I walked softly back down the rear hall and went out again through the side door. Then I went home."

A short silence ensued. Cleaver's testimony had been in the nature of a surprise; but it fitted perfectly with Mannix's statement.

Presently Vance lifted himself out of the depths of his chair.

"I say, Mr. Cleaver, what were you doing between twenty minutes to twelve—when you phoned Miss Odell—and five minutes to twelve—when you entered the side door of her apartment house?"

"I was riding up-town in the Subway from 23rd Street," came the answer, after a short pause.

"Strange—very strange." Vance inspected the tip of his cigaret. "Then you couldn't possibly have phoned to any one during that fifteen minutes—eh, what?"

I suddenly remembered Alys La Fosse's statement that Cleaver had telephoned to her on Monday night at ten minutes to twelve. Vance, by his question, had, without revealing his own knowledge, created a state of uncertainty in the other's mind. Afraid to commit himself too emphatically, Cleaver resorted to evasion.

"It's possible, is it not, that I could have phoned someone after leaving the Subway at 72nd Street and before I walked the block to Miss Odell's house?"

"Oh, quite," murmured Vance. "Still, looking at it mathematically, if you phoned Miss Odell at twenty minutes to twelve, and then entered the Subway, rode to 72d Street, walked a block to 71st, went into the building, listened at her door, and departed at five minutes to twelve—making the total time consumed only fifteen minutes—you'd scarcely have sufficient leeway to stop en route and phone to anyone.

"However, I sha'n't press the point. But I'd really like to know what you did between eleven o'clock and twenty minutes to twelve, when you phoned to Miss Odell."

Cleaver studied Vance intently for a moment.

"To tell you the truth, I was upset that night. I knew Miss Odell was out with another man—she'd broken an appointment with me—and I walked the streets for an hour or more, fuming and fretting."

"Walked the streets?" Vance frowned.

"That's what I said." Cleaver spoke with animus. Then, turning, he gave Markham a long calculating look. "You remember I once suggested to you that you might learn something from a Doctor Lindquist. . . Did you ever get after him?"

Before Markham could answer, Vance broke in.

"Ah! That's it—Doctor Lindquist! Well, well—of course! . . So, Mr. Cleaver, you were walking the streets? The streets, mind you! Precisely! You state the fact, and I echo the word 'streets.' And you—apparently out of a clear sky—ask about Doctor Lindquist.

"Why Doctor Lindquist? No one has mentioned him. But that word 'streets'—that's the connection. The streets and Doctor Lindquist are one—same as Paris and springtime are one. Neat, very neat. . . And now I've got another piece to the puzzle."

Markham and Heath looked at him as if he had suddenly gone mad. He calmly selected a Regie from his case and proceeded to light it. Then he smiled beguilingly at Cleaver.

"The time has come, my dear sir, for you to tell us when and where you met Doctor Lindquist while roaming the streets Monday night. If you don't 'pon my word, I'll come pretty close to doing it for you."

A full minute passed before Cleaver spoke; and during that time his cold staring eyes never moved from the district attorney's face.

"I've already told most of the story; so here's the rest."

He gave a soft mirthless laugh. "I went to Miss Odell's house a little before half past eleven—thought she might be home by that time. There I ran into Doctor Lindquist standing in the entrance to the alleyway. He spoke to me, and told me some one was with Miss Odell in her apartment.

"Then I walked round the corner to the Ansonia Hotel. After ten minutes or so I telephoned Miss Odell, and, as I said, a man answered. I waited another ten minutes and phoned a friend of Miss Odell's, hoping to arrange a party; but failing, I walked back to the house.

"The doctor had disappeared, and I went down the alleyway and in the side door. After listening a minute, as I told you, and hearing a man's voice, I came away and went home. That's everything."

Final Grain Review.

Chicago, Mar. 28.—Tightness in the March future, as the delivery date approaches, combined with unfavorable winter wheat weather, sent wheat into a sharp bulge today. Corn and oats followed the upturn, corn gaining on forecasts of unfavorable belt weather.

Wheat futures shot into a sensational rise during the last hours of today's session on the board of trade, and closed 2 to 2¾ higher. Tightness in the March future as the delivery date nears, and alarming reports of winter wheat abandonment in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio caused the final spectacular bulge. Corn and oats followed, corn closing 3-8 to ¾ cent higher; oats 3-8 to ½ cent up. Provisions closed sharply higher. Forecasts for snow and rain over the belt aided the advance in corn.

Tightness in the March delivery became evident early in the day, when the future took the lead in an opening rally. During the morning it advanced steadily, and at one time was up two cents or more on heavy buying to fill March contracts. Toward mid-session, it sold off somewhat and held around a level of one cent higher.

Much needed rains in southwest winter wheat fields failed to materialize, and this development helped to strengthen May and July wheat. Central belt dispatches continued pessimistic. Export business was small, receipts were 68 cars and the cash market advanced ½ cent.

Forecasts for rain or snow tonight, and Iowa reports of snow this morning, indicated a decrease in the country corn movement, which has been so surprisingly large for the last few weeks. This, with the strength in wheat, was responsible for corn's bulge. Export business was at a standstill. Receipts were moderate at 177 cars and cash corn went one cent higher.

Oats advanced with other grains. There was nothing of importance in the news. Receipts totaled 21 cars and cash oats went ¼c up.

Chicago Produce.

Chicago, March 28.—Butter receipts 8,514; extras 46½c; extra firsts 46c to 46¼c; firsts 45½c to 45⅝c; seconds 44c to 45c; standards 46½c.

Poultry receipts 5 cars; fowls 27c; ducks, heavy 30c; small 20c; geese 16c; turkeys 25c to 30c; roosters 18c.

Potatoes, arrivals 145; on track 493; in transit 550. # SEVEN MEETS FOR COLLEGE

HEAVY TRACK AND FIELD SCHEDULE IS PLANNED.

NONE ARRANGED HERE

Large Squad at Teachers College Makes Competition Keen for Places On Varsity Team.

Beginning with the National A. A. U. indoor track meet to be held at St. Louis the last of this week, the trackmen of the State Teachers College have a crowded schedule ahead of them this spring including two triangular affairs, two relays, and interstate meet, the annual M. I. A. A. meet of the five Missouri teachers colleges and the A. A. U. meet.

The following is the schedule arranged to date by Coaches H. Frank Lawrence, director of athletics, and E. A. ("Lefty") Davis:

National A. A. U., March 31.

Kansas relays, April 21.

Drake relays, April 28.

Triangular meet, with Tarkio College and Missouri Wesleyan, at Tarkio May 5.

Triangular meet, Maryville, Warrensburg and Kirksville, at Warrensburg, May 12.

M. I. A. A. meet at Warrensburg, May 18.

Interstate meet at Pittsburg, Kan., May 26.

Three Conferences to Join.

Two winners in each event of the M. I. A. A. conference, the M. C. U., eligible to compete in the interstate meet at Pittsburg, Kan.

This schedule reveals that Maryville fans will not have an opportunity to see the Bearcats on the Maryville track, because each one of the meets is away from home.

The new athletic field is under steady construction, but will not be finished in time for track events this season. It is hoped, however, to have athletic events of the High School Spring Contests on the newly constructed field, which was begun last fall.

In all there are forty-five men out for varsity athletics. Many are out for both spring football and track so no distinction has been made.

They are: Roy Smith, Leslie Smith, John Smith, Ralph Todd, Frank Tindall, Pierce Tilley, LaVan Van Velson, Ben Ausman, George Adams, William Alsup, James Alsup, Leo Cox, Charles Chapman, Wendell Culp, Edwin Crane, Fred Downing, Riley Davison, Frank Daniels, Frank Fisher, William Ficklin, Robert Hodge, Orville Hedges, George Peck, William Smith, Floid Hall, E. Hall, Oren Hall, Harvey Hollar, Lloyd Hollar, Charles Hagee, C. E. Hagee, Carl King, Ray Keever, Warren Max, Ora Mullenax, Ike Middleton, G. McCurry, Truman Nickerson, Clarence Pugh, Carol Russell, Marion Search, Truman Scott, James Seeley and Cecil Smith.

Cecil Smith, considered the College's fastest dash man and general all-around track artist, possibly will be sent to Philadelphia to enter the decathlon in the Olympic tryouts for the Olympic games which will take place at Amsterdam this year.

Lloyd Hollar is track captain this year.

Track candidates are more plentiful at the college this spring than for many years and the men are taking a lively interest. With such a large number trying out for the Varsity squad, besides the large array from the physical education classes working out three times a week on the track, competition for places on the squad is keen.

Cecil Smith, Frank Daniels, Wendell Culp and Pierce Tilley, who compromise the team that will enter the A. A. U. indoor meet at St. Louis, possess great possibilities for a fast relay team, it was stated.

Coaches Lawrence and Davis are working from 3:30 to 5 or 6 o'clock each afternoon with a large squad of football candidates. No match games will be played but there is a possibility that a practice contest may be arranged this spring.

Trading was at the rate of 4,000,000 shares for the third successive day.

Aside from General Motors and Overland, other motors were less active and mostly lower.

SAYS OIL DEAL WAS FOR BEST

Fall said that testimony of M. T. Everhart, his son-in-law, that Sinclair paid $233,000 in Liberty bonds, ostensibly for one-third interest in the Fall ranch was virtually correct, with the exception of some details.

"They are trying to prove that it was graft," he went on. "I claim that it was not.

"If, after I have told my complete story, the public and courts think differently, then they can give me what they think I deserve."

LIQUOR AGAIN TO THE FRONT

"Diamond Joe" Esposito, until he was ambushed and slain last Wednesday night, was the leader of the 25th—the old "bloody nineteenth"—and was a favorite over Savage in the committeeman's race.

Savage was protected today by a bodyguard, and the homes of forty other political leaders, federal, state and city officials were guarded against further bombing attacks.

Rewards totalling $65,000 were offered by police and leaders of the Thompson - Crowe-Barrett Republican faction for arrest and conviction of the bombers of the Deneen and Swanson homes.

Armed Squads Patrol.

Heavily armed squads patrolled the ward where "Diamond Joe" was assassinated. Gangsters' haunts also were watched closely.

Police commissioner Michael Hughes announced that no arrests had been made in the Deneen and Swanson bombings and there were "no developments."

State's attorney Robert E. Crowe announced he would hear witnesses to the two attacks in his investigation today.

The Deneen-Swanson faction began its own investigation, accompanied by charges against Thompson faction.

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom's presence in Chicago gave rise to new rumors he might call a special grand jury investigation over the head of state's attorney Crowe.

The union Minister's Association passed a resolution urging the voters to "register their indignaton at the primary April 10 against vice and corruption existing in Chicago.

"Joe Savage is going to get out of politics in the 25th ward or just as sure as day follows day he will be caught on the spot before the sun rises April 10.

"Killing to Follow."

"If a special grand jury and special progecutor is not forthcoming, Chicago will be in a state of anarchy before April 10. You have seen no bombings yet. We will get the special grand jury if we have to blow up the city hall—lots of nice corners there to plant Pineapples (gangland's name for bombs) the TNT in the Pineapple will be heard in Springfield. The only reason this is written anonymously is because a killing is to follow. We mean business."

It was reported Deneen would return from Washington this week and remain here until the primary. Preliminary to his return, members of his organization met last night in secret.

WILL FINISH PLANS BEFORE TELLING THEM

Lindbergh Refuses to Discuss Rumor of Solo Flight Around the World.

Washington, Mar. 28.—Charles A. Lindbergh's plans for the future some ambitious projects, but the flyer positively will not disclose them until his plans are completed, his friends said today following Lindbergh's departure from here, apparently for New York.

One report was that he was considering a solo flight around the world.

"I have no comment to make," was his reply to a specific question about a globe-circling proposal. He made the same reply when questioned as to a Japanese report that he would fly to Tokio in August for the coronation of the Emperor and to a San Diego report that he would go to the California city to get a new airplane designed for him by the builders of the Spirit of St. Louis.

Lindbergh incidentally made it plain he did not intend to dignify with denials or coment all rumors presented to him as to his future plans.

Lindbergh's conference yesterday with assistant Secretary of States Olds had given rise to speculation, quite unconfirmed, that he may be planning a world flight or other ambitious ventures. In this connection, it was recalled he had previously indicated a decision to make a South America flight. The conference, it was states, did not deal with any plans for a trip to Japan.

Mrs. P. Partridge spent the day in St. Joseph.

German Flyiers to Hop Soon

Hermann Koehl (left), German ace whose westward transatlantic flight attempt failed last summer, has set out again toward New York from Berlin with Baldonnel Airdrome, Ireland, his first stop. With him in his big all-metal Junkers monoplane "Brennen" are Baron von Hennefeld (right) and Arthur Spindler. They await only good weather and hope to get awaw tomorrow.

Radio Commission Is Extended One Year

Body Annnounces Licenses of All Transmitting Stations Will Expire August 31.

Washington, Mar. 28. — President Coolidge today signed the radio bill extending the federal radio commission's authority for one year and providing for the equitable allocation of broadcasting power and wave lengths among stations in the five radio ones.

At the same time the commission ordered all licenses covering postal, point-to-point, technical, training, experimental, ship and amateur radio transmitting stations to expire automatically August 31.

These licenses had been extended indefinitely pending the commission's allocation of wave lengths to broadcasting stations. The commission now feels it can apply its time to straightening out the situation among radio transmitting stations.

Application for new or renewed licenses for the transmitting stations must be filed before July 31. The commission announced however, that no formal licenses granted for definite periods were affected by today's order.

Two Killed, 5 Injured in Stock Train Crash

Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 28.—Two men were killed and five others were injured when a Rock Island freight train crashed into the rear end of a stock train at Loring, Kan., about twenty miles from here early today.

All of the victims were stockmen and were riding in the caboose of the stock train.

The stock train was bound for Kansas City and had stopped at Loring to repair a hotbox when the freight train, traveling at a high rate of speed, rammed it from the rear.

Charles A. Lass of Riley, Kas., was killed instantly. Another stockman, R. E. Maxwell, suffered the loss of a leg and died in an ambulance en route to a Kansas City, Kas., hospital.

Students at Jewell Support Modernist

Rally to Support of Dr. R. R. Fleet, Dean, Whom Baptist Leader Would Dismiss.

Liberty, Mo., March 28.—Fundamentalists have challenged modernists at William Jewell College here and students of the college have signed a petition supporting the supposed modernism.

The Rev. S. M. Brown, Missouri Baptist leader, submitted Dr. R. R. Fleet's name to the board of trustees for dismissal because his views are too modern. Fleet is dean and instructor of mathematics at the school.

Students have circulated their petition upholding the views of Dr. Fleet as expressed in a pamphlet on science and college education.

Ideas put forth in the pamphlet formed the basis for the Rev. Brown's criticism.

Again to Attempt Auto Speed Mark

Ray Keech Claims To Have Gone 250 Miles Per Hour in Recent Run.

Ormond Beach, Fla., Mar. 27.—Ray Keech, Eastern States auto race champion, will return here from a fishing trip soon to make another try for a new world's speed record in the 36-cylinder Triplex owned and built by J. M. White.

Keech and White are considering ways and means to install a reverse gear as required by the A. A. A. They believe the car will exceed Captain Malcom Campbell's record of almost 207 miles an hour.

In his preliminary trial in the Triplex Keech said his tachometer registered at 2,300 revolutions of the shaft per minute when a water line became loose, scalding him with steam and hot water, and forcing him to turn off the gas as he entered his mile. The tachometer reading indicated a speed of 250 miles an hour.

Keech's car made but one other run but because it was disqualified because of the gear shortcomings it was not officially timed. Unofficially, the speed was 198.76 m. p. h. on the north bound mile and 209.50 m. p. h. south bound.

The Trpiex is the most powerful engined automobile ever built. It lacks streamlining but is held to the beach runway by its great weight.

Washington, Mar. 28.— Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, plans to speak in ten states within the next month, the Reed-for-President headquarters announced today. The itinerary includes, Omaha, Nebr., on April 4.

Jacksonville, Fla., Mar. 28.—Transferring their endeavors from Michigan to Florida, George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson began an endurance flight attempt at 7:36 a. m., here today.

The two fliers used a Stinson-Detroiter monoplane carrying 550 gallons of gasoline which they hoped would keep them aloft for 60 hours. The record is slightly more than 52 hours.

Haldeman and Stinson planned to fly over Jacksonville beach and the nearby Florida coast during the attempt. They were to alternate at the controls.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has offered a $5,000 prize to the two if they set a new record.

Charges Thompson Wants Senate Seat

Chicago, March 28.—Otis F. Glenn, candidate for the U. S. Senate seat made vacant by refusal of the upper House to seat Col. Frank Smith, charged today that Smith is running for re-election as a dummy for Mayor William Hale Thompson.

"If Smith is elected he cannot be seated, and this is known to Governor Len Small and Mayor Thompson, who are supporting him," Glenn said. "Thompson wants the Senate job and wants it badly. If Small is re-elected, and Smith is elected and refused admission, Small will appoint Thompson to the vacancy."

In Chicago, Glenn charged, "the gamblers, bootleggers, racketeers and gangsters are actively supporting Len Small, Frank L. Smith and others on the governor's slate."

He said a slush fund of nearly $1,000,000 "collected from state job holders, contractors, and others under obligation to the administration," is being used for Small and Smith.

Rome, March 28.—Eighteen persons were killed yesterday in earthquakes which were felt in several Italian towns. More than 50 were injured.

A church at Tolemezzo was damaged and is in danger of collapsing.

Many houses crumbled at Cavazzo and Carnico where three persons were killed and several injured.

All houses at Versignis collapsed, causing the death of five persons. The entire population in the Versignis region spent the night in the open.

Most extensive damage was caused at Udine, where ten persons were killed and 40 injured.

Troops and engineers have taken charge of the situation, administering relief and guarding against pillaging.

Communication has been made extremely difficult and, it was feared today, the death toll may be increased as other towns are heard from.
